

The Daily Gazetteer.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 2 1739.

91. 1203.

To the Author of the DAILY GAZETTEER.

SIR,

HAVE been a constant Reader of the Gazetteer, and as such have believ'd him actuated by the Principles of Liberty and Virtue, till reading the Letter in your Paper and the Daily Advertiser relating to Mr. Strutt, altered my Opinion. I am astonish'd how any Man endued with the least Modesty can go on with his Weekly Reflections, when he himself stands convicted of a most notorious Falshood to the Publick. I did expect last Saturday some Sort of Justification of himself; but find he follows his Brother Common Sense in flurring over in Silence what ought to be particularly answer'd. I hope, Sir, you'll not let these Circumstances pass unobserved, but repeat to the Publick those Charges remaining against Common Sense and Col. D'Anvers, Esq; that the Publick may be set right in their Judgments with respect to these two great Champions for our Laws and Liberties.

I am, &c.

To RALPH FREEMAN, Esq;

SIR,

THE inclosed Poem was communicated to me by a Friend, to which if you please to give a Place in your Paper, you will very much oblige,

SIR,

Your most humble Servant,

W. W.

An Epistle to the Right Honourable Sir ROBERT WALPOLE.

FAM'D among Men, whom mighty Deeds employ !
Thy Nation's Safety, and thy Nation's Joy !
Receive the Thanks, that justly are thy due,
A Debt to Freedom, is a Debt to you.
By thee, to publick Virtue long inur'd,
The Blessing's given, and the Good secur'd ;
Possest'd of Happiness, we once implor'd,
Thy Heart protecting, what thy Hand restor'd.
Oh, LIBERTY ! thou Object of the Brave !
The TYRANT's Scourge, and Terror of the Knave !
Say, WALPOLE ! none can better speak her Charms,
The Swell, and Glow of Mind, the Soldier warms ;
What Extasy from conscious Virtue flows,
What mighty Zeal a Patriot's Soul compose ;
The Dignity superior is to Guile,
The Heroe's Comfort, and the Martyr's Smile ;
Say, what the Power engag'd thy early Youth,
And fixt thee fast to Virtue, and to Truth :
Through ev'ry Scene, what gen'rous Hopes and Fears Grew with thy Heart, and strengthen'd with thy Years ;
Invariably Just, confirm'd thy Mind,
And made thy Pleasure, and thy Care, Mankind.

E'er since in Thought my tender Mind began,
Spread into Sense, and shooted up to Man ;
Form'd by thy Precepts, by Example taught,
The Fire I hallow'd, and the Flame I caught ;
With thee my Pray'rs, with thee my Wishes went,
Warm in th' View, and anxious for th' Event.
Charm'd with the Glories of my Country's Cause,
When THOU, and MERLBROOK, gave th' Nation Laws ;

Then first the Muse display'd her feeble Wing,
Attempted first to rise, and first to sing
Her Pow'r and Wealth compar'd with former Times,
The happiest Ages, and the fairest Climes ;
Adorn'd with native Truth, and manly Grace,
And owning Freedom's thrice auspicious Face.

But soon, alas ! the angry Clouds arise,
Dismay, and darken round, the troubl'd Skies ;
Fell Faction rais'd her Crest, and strain'd her Lungs,
And bellow'd furious from her hundred Tongues ;
Confusion heard her Voice, enforc'd her Cries,
And fled Disorder from her livid Eyes ;

And Slav'ry grinning from her horrid Cell,
Now summons all her Pow'rs in Earth, and Hell.
Feeble and wan BRITANNIA sinks to Ground,
Her Breast disfigur'd with a ghastly Wound :
Her bloody Paricides around her stands,
Their coward Weapons tremble in their Hands.
Sad Cypress now thy Poet's Temples spread,
And heavy Vapours crown'd his mournful Head ;
Now chang'd to doleful Strain his Note, and Name,
And slobb'd Elegiac Sighs o'er ENGLAND's Shame.

But oh ! the mighty Rapture, and Delight,
Which open'd on his Soul, and fill'd his Sight,
When BRUNSWICK came with Pow'rs to aid, and bless,

These to restore, and BRITAIN to redress :
And, mildly spreading forth a healing Hand,
To save, and to redeem a sinking Land ;
Then, gifted with a more than common Voice,
And led by earnest Zeal, and special Choice,
Inspir'd with sacred Rage, I Truths foretold,
And felt the God, which Poet felt of old ;
Given to foresee fair Virtue's full Increase,
Fair in its full Rewards of Wealth and Peace ;
Taught by thy faithful Aid the more to shine,
And thrive, and prosper, through his sacred Line :
So from the Throne Supreme the Fists giv'n,
So Angels minster the Works of Heav'n.

Devote to Thee accept these rude Essays,
Sincere in Duty, though infirm in Praise :
Sprung from a Breast, no sordid Motives move,
The thankful' Temper, and the truest Love ;
Anxious for nothing more, than that they live,
Excuse the Freedom, and the Pride forgive.
Vain are the Properties in fertile Earth,
If the Sun's Warmth not Influence their Birth ;
Sickly they rise in discontented Day,
Insensibly decline, and pine away.

Why did I give it Life ! Delpair doth chide,
Why that beget, for which I can't provide ?
None but a Parent knows a Parent's Joy,
What human Creature can its own destroy ?
As Brat, imprudent rais'd from Sire that's poor,
Who drops it at some hospitable Door ;
In adverse Passion hankers 'bout the Gate,
Fond for to know, yet fears to ask his Fate ;
So faint I'd to the World my Thoughts impart,
But have not the engaging, needful Art ;
Nor Interest, nor yet a forward Face ;
Sir ROBERT smiles, — and 'tis a Smile of Grace.

NEW ENGLAND.

Newbury, March 9. Last Tuesday, the 6th Instant, there being a very severe Storm of Wind and Snow, a Brigantine from Alicante bound to Marblehead, having mistaken the Land, and not knowing where they were, let go both their Anchors, to prevent their going ashore, but to no Purpose, the Cables parting, the Vessel drove ashore, and thump'd exceedingly, so that they were afraid she would stave to Pieces; whereupon they hoisted out their Boat, and landed with much Difficulty near Mr. Crocker's House; but the Weather being very thick, did not perceive it, and fearing they were upon an Island that the Sea over-flow'd, they return'd on board their Vessel, where they were under the same Apprehension as before of the Vessel's breaking to Pieces, the Seas breaking upon them in a most terrible manner. The Capt. whose Name was Sudley, a Jersey Man, the Mate, whose Name was Andrew Cornell of Beverley, and three of the Sailors, resolved to go ashore, by jumping off the Bowsprit, but by the Violence of the Surf were drown'd; but they were all, except One, found on the Shore the next Day, when two Whale-Boats were fitted to go and help the Vessel : The four Men which remain'd on board were taken up alive, and are likely to do well : The four that were taken up dead were decently interr'd this Day. We are inform'd the Vessel belong'd to Mess. Sweat and Hooper : What is found from the Wreck is very inconsiderable. It is reported there were 2000 Pieces of Eight aboard, which it is hop'd will be found, to mitigate the Owner's Loss.

Philadelphia, Feb 8. Tuesday Night last a Fire broke out at the upper End of Front-street, and burnt down three or four Houses in a short Time. It is suppos'd to have been occasion'd by a Part of the Snuff of a Candle falling on some loose Linen.

New-York, Feb. 12. Extract of a Letter from St. Eustacia, dated Jan. 12. ' Two Days ago a French trading Sloop from the Spanish Coast touch'd here laden with Cocoa, and having Twenty thousand Pieces of Eight on Board ; on the Coast of Carracca she met with two Spanish Gallies of twenty Guns each, which she engag'd for twelve Hour, and at last oblig'd them to give over. You must think she was very much shatter'd, so that she came up to St. Thomas to refit, and went down again to complete her Trade, and meeting a Spanish Guarda Coat, she sunk him.'

HOME PORTS.

Arrived at several Ports. The Howard, Nicholson, from Whitehaven at Virginia.

The Iggesund, Grenau, from Stockholm at Rouen. The Phenix, Ellis, from Lisbon for Hamburg ; the Hull Merchant, Allison, from New England for Hull ; and the —, Glegg, from Oporto for Yarmouth, all three at Dover.

LONDON.

Yesterday arriv'd a Flanders Mail, with the Brussels and Cologn Gazettes, confirming the News of the Grand Vizier's being depos'd, by Letters of the 22d and 25th ult. N. S. from Vienna ; which add also, that he is succeeded in that Post by the Seraskier of Widdin.

They write from Stockholm, by the Way of Hamburg, that there are three Parties there, who are distinguished by the Names of Hats, Night Caps, and Travelling-Caps.

Letters of the 4th O. S. from Madrid say, that four Days before, Mr. Keene, the British Plenipotentiary, received an Express from London, with his Britannick Majesty's full Powers and Instructions, for himself and for M. Castres, authorising them as Plenipotentiaries to enter into Conferences with those of his Catholick Majesty, for adjusting the Grievances complained of by the Subjects of the two Nations, and to agree on Articles of a Treaty : And on the 2d, Mr. Keene, who had an Audience of the King the Day before, went to the Marquis de Villarias, Secretary of State, to acquaint him that the said full Powers, &c. were arrived, and that they were ready to open the Conferences with the Plenipotentiaries of the King of Spain. The Marquis de Villarias express'd a great deal of Satisfaction at the Arrival of the full Powers, and said that he should very soon see his Majesty's Plenipotentiaries, in order to fix a Day with him for opening the Conferences.

They write from Vigo in Spain, That some Fishermen lately took on that Coast a Sort of Monitor, or

Merman

Merman, 5 Foot and a Half from its Foot to its Head, which is like that of a Goat. It has a long Beard and Moustachos; a black Skin, somewhat hairy; a very long Neck, short Arms, and Hands longer and bigger than they ought to be in Proportion to the rest of the Body; long Fingers, like those of a Man, with Nails like Claws; very long Toes joint'd like the Feet of a Duck, and the Heel, furnish'd with Fins resembling the winged Feet with which the Painters represent Mercury. It has also a Fin at the lower End of its Back, which is 12 Inches long and 15 or 16 broad.

His Majesty's Ship the Portland, commanded by the Hon. Capt. John Byng, is ordered to carry his Brother, the Hon. Robert Byng, Esq; to his Government of Barbados, where she is to be stationed for two Years.

Richard Sedgewick, lately committed to Newgate for Horse-stealing, has confessed the stealing of 30 Horses from Grass.

Yesterday Morning, two Stage Coaches were robb'd by a single Highwayman at the End of Kensington Gore.

Yesterday the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor, in the Presence of several Aldermen in the Council Chamber at Guildhall, nominated Samuel Row, Esq; of Stoke Newington, Citizen and Goldsmith, to be one of the Sheriffs of London and County of Middlesex for the Year ensuing.

Last Night Sir Isaac Shard lay at the Point of Death at his House in Kennington-Lane, being given over by his Physicians.

BANKRUPTS.

Elizabeth Clarke, of Newton Abbott, in the County of Devon, Widow, Mercer, and Chapwoman.

By the Rev. Mr. STACKEYHOUSE,
Author of a late Body of Divinity, &c.

There is now publish'd,
A New History of the HOLY BIBLE.

IN the HISTORY itself is given a plain and easy Narrative of the Matters contain'd in the Holy Scriptures, from the Beginning of the World, to the full Etab-lishment of Christianity: In the Notes is digest'd the Sense of the best Commentators, in order to explain the severall difficult Texts, rectify the Mis-Translations, and reconcile the seeming Contradictions, that any where occur: In the Observations all the material Exceptions, which are made to the Facts recorded in each Period of History, are fairly stated, and answer'd: And in the Dissertations, which attend each Chapter, the most remarkable Passages are illustrated, and the profane and sacred History all along connected. The Whole is adorn'd with proper Maps and Sculptures, and all Matters are refer'd to in Scriptural, Chronological, and Alphabetical Tables.

N. B. That the above-mention'd Book (either in Sheets or

An Infallible CURE
For Barrenness in Women, and Impotency in Men,
By Superlative ENLIVENING DROPS;
Which in a few Days render both Sexes Prolific in a most wonderful Manner.

Hundreds of Ladies who were deem'd incariable Brides, and very many who thought themselves too old to bear Children, have immediately conceived after taking three or four Doses of them only; and vast Numbers of GENTLEMEN by taking them, have presently become capable of propagating their Species, who before, thro' either Imbecility or Age, imagin'd it impossible.

They almost instantly renovate the vital Ferments of the Blood and Juices, rectify the languid State of all the Fluids, rouse, fortify, and increase the Spirits, invigorate the Nerves, restore juvenile Wearth, and cause a sparkling Gladness and ardent Courage to flow in the Heart, and expand itself thro' the whole human System, so as sensibly to enliven and invigorate all the animal Faculties, and corroborate or strengthen the whole Body, as well as the Part appropriated to Generation, and do infallibly cure Barrenness in one Sex, and Impotency in the other, from what Cause soever proceeding, as Thousands have experienced.

They are also pleasant to take, are Cordial to the Stomach, create an Appetite, and procure a good Digestion, beyond any thing known in the World. And are to be had only at Mr.
RADFORD's Toy-shop, at the Rose and Crown against St. Clement's Church-Yard, in the Strand, Price 5s. the Bottle, with Directions.
